We hear from applicants repeatedly that our peer-review evaluation* is one of the most valuable aspects of the application process. What makes this so beneficial?

- ✔ It provides the opportunity for an outside, objective view of your organization's current talent development practices.
- ✔ Our reviewers will offer insights and recommendations designed to help improve your organization's training development programs.
- ✔ The feedback you receive allows you and your team to reflect on the past year and set clear, actionable goals for the future.

Peer-review evaluations are available to every applicant, regardless of their ranking.
